
CHRISTMAS SPIRIT may be an intangible ingredient that is difficult to define.

But is just HAS to be present around the Campbell post office's postage-stamp size parking lot during this time of year.

That's the only way we can account for the lack of belligerency on the part of post office patrons who vainly struggle so manfully, awkwardly and confusedly to find a parking space during the Christmas season reasonably near the post office.

The flow of traffic in that area during the peak period is interesting and amusing to watch, provided you haven't anything better to do or you are not directly involved in it.

FORTUNATELY the cars move slowly and cautiously through the maze and fender benders have been at a minimum. Apparently those who become involved in the traffic intricacies at that particular spot are old hands at it and know what they are getting into or out of.

But we dread the day when some hot rodder unfamiliar with the layout barrels down Latimer at a drag clip.

FORTUNATELY for those of us who must call at the office daily, it is only the Christmas season when the going is really the roughest.

And, as we said, it must be the Christmas spirit that keeps tempers in check.

We actually saw one guy smile and wave after he was 'conned' out of a parking space into which he was maneuvering his big car. A VW had shot into the space ahead of him.

He just HAD to be filled with the spirit of the season.

If that had happened during any other time of year, we doubt if there would have been any smiling going on.

With college closed for the holidays, the situation for the few days that remain before Christmas will not be quite so frustrating.

Not only will the college parking lot be available for post office patrons but there will be room on the nearby residential streets also.

BUT FOR THE past few weeks it has been murder.

Traffic from Esther Ave. would flow (and we use the term loosely) onto Latimer to become involved with traffic moving either east or west on Latimer.

Some cars would be trying to make a left-turn into the post office parking lot meeting those coming out of the same lot.

Other cars would be trying to get into the college parking lot next to the post office and still others would be leaving that lot.

In the meantime there would be some poor souls who neither wanted to go to college

GIANT GREETINGS--While nearly 80 children raised their voices in song, sixth grade students at San Tomas School presented costumed characters in a Christmas card setting.

THE LIGHTER SIDE--Bert Avlakeotes and Debra Deaver are two of the toys in Santa's workshop who've come to life in San Tomas School's production "Living Christmas Cards" directed by Frances Boden and Robert Crawford.

AND A HO, HO, HO--This giant greeting card made by students at San Tomas School has opened to reveal that jolly old saint (Tim Acosta) himself.

Board rejects idea

Efforts to change school name fail

At an emotionally-charged Campbell elementary school board meeting last Thursday, hopes of San Tomas residents that the name of the San Tomas School would be changed to the "Jack C. Fischer" school were shattered.

trustees rejected the name-change resolution that had been drafted by a special committee named at the meeting by Mrs. Graham-Armstrong, board president.

Immediately after the resolution that would have changed the school name was turned down, another resolution endorsing a plan to provide a special educational facility in the district to be named for Jack C. Fischer was adopted unanimously.

REJECTED

The board members who rejected the name-change indicated that this special educational facility could encompass efforts of the entire district, individual schools and community. They maintained that it would be a more fitting and lasting memorial to the work that Jack Fischer had done for the district than by merely changing the name of a school.

But the action of the board on the second resolution did not offset the disappointment expressed by the large group of San Tomas area residents at the meeting who had presented a petition to the board signed by more than 850 people requesting the name-change.

Many of those present at the meeting took the floor and vociferously denounced the board members for their action in denying the request by so many

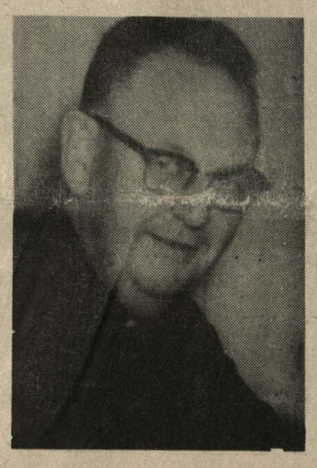
CHRISTMAS PAGEANT--On Monday night St. Lucy's presented the annual Christmas pageant entitled "Rejoice". Therese Tuttle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tuttle, 112 N. 2nd St., and Joseph Giorgianni, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Giorgianni, 737 Rickey Court, were cast as "Mary" and "Joseph" (above). Four-month old Greg Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Snyder, 592 Vasona, was the Christ Child. (More pictures and other details of the traditional annual program will appear in subsequent issues.)



FATHER JOHN LALLY

Father John Lally, pastor of St. Lucy's Catholic Church in Campbell since 1960, presents the 1965 Christmas message in The Press, following a tradition set some years ago.

Father Lally, native of San Francisco, is the second pastor in St. Lucy's history. The church was founded in 1946 and during the 20 years, the parish, although its boundaries have shrunk, has had a phenomenal growth.

The church that was built only in 1958 on Winchester Blvd. has now proved too small and a new $350,000 structure which will seat 1200 is now under construction. The new church is located just north of the parish house on Winchester. More than 2500 families are served by the parish and approximately 4200 attend Sunday masses.

Father Lally was ordained in 1938 and members of the local parish participated in marking his silver jubilee as a priest in 1963.

Christmas 1966

To one and all of you, my neighbors and friends, I wish a "Merry Christmas".

Have you noticed a strange thing about that familiar greeting? You take the sourest, gloomiest, meanest man you know. He may have a face as cold and stark as a block of granite and his tight lips may be padlocked in a perpetual frown, but come Christmas and something "magic" touches them and they spring open - not for his usual grumpy "Good morning" - but for a warm "Merry Christmas".

They say "the whole world is Irish on the 17th of March", well, the whole world seems almost human on the 25th of December. For one brief day, they remember that God thought so much of men He became one Himself.

But, alas, let the Christmas clock chime midnight and the spirit of Christmas rushes off to catch the last Reindeer Express for its trip back to heaven. Our hearts crawl back into their hard shells for another year. The twenty-four hour truce with mankind is over. The grimy, sullen fight for self is on again. After all, the important party is Number One.

Yes! But for those who believe in the Christmas Miracle, Number One is God - the God who became one of us to teach us to love all! Christmas made Him little; it ought to make us big - and keep us that way. He did not vanish after Christmas. He stayed - from the Crib to the Cross.

He did not glorify just one day on the calander. He began a whole new calander from B.C. to A.D.

And so, let us not make Christmas a day, but a doctrine; that every man is my brother, because his little Brother - and mine - is in the Christmas Crib!

Schools in area mark Christmas

By Sally Howe

If you are a school-age child, Christmas takes on its own meaning.

There's the excitement of the Christmas program, the flurry of gift-making, and the decorations which adorn the classroom.

For some, there's a new Christmas song to learn, a visit from Santa Claus, and the sense of well-being which comes from knowing that all the goings-on are really for your benefit.

QUITO SCHOOL

For the children of Quito School, there was the lovely tree from the Home and School Club, which was decorated under the direction of Mrs. Donald Stoner and Mrs. James Todd.

To add to their enjoyment, sixth grade students from the classes of Joan Wells and Jon Greenough made Santa Claus mobiles and strung them across the school's cafetorium for all to enjoy.

On the night of Dec. 15, the school orchestra, directed by Tom Fox, played familiar carols, featuring solo parts by Marshall Otter, Tim Eakin, Barbara Olsen, and Deborah Carpenter. Mrs. Barbara Burman directed a fourth grade glee club, accompanied by Marilyn Hogan. Narrator was Sherry Gomes and coordinator was Mrs. Virginia Daniels.

ROSEMARY

At Rosemary School, two Christmas programs highlighted the season. Primary children entertained their parents at an afternoon program where kindergartners sang "Rudolph" and first graders paid tribute to their tree with "O Christmas Tree." Second grade students sang "Sleigh Bells" and the third graders sang of the wonders of "Christmas Eve."

Fourth and fifth grade students at Rosemary performed at an evening program. Featured were the orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Earlene Ware and the choir led by Mrs. Marge Foskett. Selections included "Let's Have An Old Fashioned Christmas" and "The First Noel."

A school-wide project of collecting canned goods for needy families was undertaken, too. On Friday, a Home and School Club sponsored Santa Claus spent most of the day distributing candy canes.

HAZELWOOD

Mrs. Helen Chase, president of Hazelwood School's Home and School Club, directed the decoration of the school Christmas tree. Because of the school's large enrollment, two separate evening programs for the children and their parents was held, featuring traditional carol singing. One of the school's Girl Scout troops collected canned goods as their holiday project.

City wants college on permanent basis

Campbell councilmen in a joint meeting with the governing board of West Valley College Monday night reiterated their position that they favored a permanent campus in Campbell but they looked with disfavor on continuation of the temporary status.

Robert Brydon, college board president, informed the councilmen that the matter of permanancy in Campbell would be discussed at a regular board meeting.

But neither Brydon nor the other board members indicated that any firm committment on the future status of the Campbell site would be made.

The board members emphasized throughout the meeting that lack of funds to develop the college was the main stumbling block and after three bond failures they were faced with a difficult task of providing facilities for the students.

Since the last turn down at the polls in November, the college board has moved to construct the first permanent building on the 143-acre site in Saratoga and will also add enough relocatable classrooms on that site so that the college will be able to operate a full campus there in 1968, the council was informed.

In the meantime, however, it will be necessary to add 14 more relocatable classrooms on the Campbell temporary site. Present plans call for both the Saratoga and Campbell campuses to be operating

Editorial

In disagreement BUT--

We disagree vigorously with the decision of the three Campbell Union (elementary) School District trustees who last week voted against the renaming of San Tomas School to the "Jack C. Fischer School".

In our opinion the reasoning of these three board members, Ted Sedgewick, William Parton and Vernon Armstrong, that led to their decision was unsound.

But, in our opinion also, we believe that the three men conscientiously made their decisions based on their own basic principles as to what they felt was the proper course to follow for the district as a whole.

As strongly as we feel that they made the wrong decision in this matter, we just as strongly maintain they had every right to their own beliefs and to stand firmly on their own convictions.

School board members are entrusted with a grave responsibility. They must give much of their time and effort to doing a thankless job, for the most part, of administering a school district.

They must have strong principles and they must adhere to them, even if adhering to them seems to be the unpopular way at the moment.

But we would much rather have men with strong principles guiding our school district, although we may disagree with them, than to have trustees whose principles vary with the amount of pressure applied.

There is an old axiom around newspaper circles which supposedly stems from Voltaire which maintains that a newspaper can disagree with a person's viewpoint but also must defend that person's right to say it.

That's the way we look at this particular situation.

We believe emphatically that the issue of renaming San Tomas School to the "Jack C. Fischer School" unfortunately became an issue involved in principles, concepts, philosophies, policies, tradition, emotion, sentiment plus other extraneous subjects.

Actually the name-change should have taken place, in our opinion, by a simple act of the board when the matter was first presented and before it became enmeshed in the complexities of philosophy and policy.

In other words, in our opinion there was no need to make a federal case out of it.

The board members who voted against renaming the school took turns extolling the virtues of Jack Fsicher and what he had meant to the district in the 14 years he was principal of San Tomas before his untimely death in September.

They agreed he had contributed a great deal to the school and the community.

They felt, however, that just renaming the school was an inadequate gesture. Something bigger should be developed as a memorial.

But our question is simply this: If it is granted that a mere name-change is inadequate, why should that preclude further development of a more fitting memorial?

It was also pointed out that if the board changed the name of the school, it was establishing a policy that would be unfair to succeeding boards who would be faced with similar situations.

But that premise is based on the assumption that "policy" is something inflexible that never can be changed.

If that is true then any board is being unfair to succeeding boards in all matters of "policy" they may have established.

And we know that this cannot be true. Situations change; enrollment increases or decreases; schools burn down; girls skirts go up and then come down; hair styles and attire change.

Surely "policies" on these matters must change.

But we must reiterate our basic contention.

Renaming of San Tomas School could have been done simply and with dignity without getting involved with the many ramifications that subsequently developed emotionally and philosophically.

We think it is important to remember also that while the school board must administer 19 schools throughout the district, obviously parents of youngsters in school are primarily interested only in the school in their own area. It is about the only "personal" touch left in this impersonal world of ours.

In this Computer-age in which we live, more and more decisions are being made on an impersonal basis. Running 19 schools is big business, and naturally most actions affecting the district must be impersonal.

But we have long argued that we need to hold onto these few remaining personal relationships as long as possible.

The schools in their given areas are among the few basic personal links remaining in our society.

The people served by the San Tomas School indicated overwhelmingly that they wanted the name of the school in their area changed.

Perhaps it isn't good district policy. And maybe the people around the 18 other schools weren't interested in the name-change.

But the San Tomas people were.

And we think their personal feelings in the matter should not be ignored.

nor the post office. They would be stuck on Latimer, sometimes as far back as the signal on Winchester.

Actually there is very little that can be done about the situation that would relieve the congestion.

In all fairness it must be reported that the Campbell office has better parking facilities than many other post offices of comparable size.

Postmaster Jim Hurley, who is well aware of the problems, told us that Los Gatos has only seven spaces at its office compared to Campbell's 20.

JIM, his assistant Dick Adams, and the entire crew in the Campbell office do an excellent job on the whole in handling the milling mailing mobs. They, too, seem to get into the spirit of the season and manage to be extra patient with their patrons in these trying times.

But even during Christmas season, Postmaster Jim's halo slips a bit when he sees a college student slide his car into one of the scarce parking lots at the post office and head off to class.

Oh well, only three days more and then we can all be mean again.

TO EMPHASIZE the changes that have taken place in one decade, a couple of weeks ago, in this column we attempted to cite the businesses and offices that are on Campbell Ave. today and were there 11 years ago when we first hit town.

On the entire street from Winchester to Bascom, as far as we could determine out of 100 or so, there are only 11 still under the same management.

Then we tried to break it down even further.

Of those, we claimed only two businesses (Blue Bell and Campbell Florist) and four offices were in the same location as they were in 1955.

Bob Benson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Benson who have operated Benson's Campbell Cleaners in Campbell since the '40's, corrected our listing.

Bob was so right.

The Campbell Cleaners haven't moved. Lowell and his gang have operated from the same old stand all these years.

Thanks, Bob, for correcting us.

We knew better.

TRUSTEES SPEAK

Before Mrs. Graham-Armstrong appointed the resolution committee, composed of two board members, John Merriell and Ted Sedgewick; a school principal, Bob Landreth; a teacher, Ken Daoust and a citizen's representative, Jim St. Germaine, each board member had voiced an opinion on the issue.

Members of the audience also took part in the discussion summarizing the efforts of the name-change committee during the last two months. In addition to the petition that had been presented, many letters had been received by the board favoring the name-change.

After the board members had expressed their viewpoints, (all except Mrs. Graham-Armstrong had indicated they opposed the name-change) the committee was appointed to draft a resolution so that the board could offically take action on the matter. It was pointed out that this was necessary in order for the board to "have something before it".

PRESIDENT TALKS

Mrs. Graham-Armstrong had made the opening statement which she read because she said she couldn't trust herself to speak extemporaneously on the issue that was so near and dear to her. She recalled that her children had attended the San Tomas School and thus she had known his work from a parent's viewpoint as well as a board member.

The other four board members also lavished praise on the work done by Fischer but indicated that they felt changing the name of the school would be an inadequate gesture as a memorial for his contributions to the district.

Several board members added also that one of the disadvantages in renaming a school would be that it would be placing an unfair burden on future boards that would be faced with similar situations.

These future boards would be forced to weigh the merits of a future individual's contributions with those of Jack Fischer's, it was pointed out.

CONFUSION

An interesting parliamentary procedure momentarily confused the issue when the time to vote on the resolution.

Trustee Merriell, in reporting for the resolution drafting committee, said that it had first resolution should merely specify that the name be changed.

He then moved and Trustee Sedgewick seconded the motion that the resolution be presented to the board for action.

Both William Parton and Vernon Armstrong then reiterated their opposition to the name-change.

Mrs. Graham-Armstrong wrongfully assumed that she would have to cast the deciding vote because Merriell and Sedgewick had presented the resolution.

It was quickly pointed out, however, that Merriell's motion had been merely to introduce the resolution.

ABSTAINING

Sedgewick then reaffirmed his original opposition but Merriell said that, although he did not think the name-change was an adequate measure, he recognized that the people felt strongly on the matter. He said that he would abstain in voting.

The vote was 3-1 with Mrs. Graham-Armstrong the only trustee favoring the changing of the name.

The second resolution specifying exploring the possibility of a special educational facility be established in memory of Jack Fischer then passed without a dissenting vote.

SERVES AGAIN--Mrs. Betty Grizzle, of 63 N. Poplar Ave., Campbell, has been reappointed by the City Council to another three-year term on the Parks and Recreation Commission.

after that.

Councilman Bill Smeed led the council attack in asking for an expression from the governing board of the college on Campbell's future. Smeed emphasized that the city desires a campus here on a permanent basis but felt it was unfair to use Campbell as a "dumping ground" just until a permanent campus was built in another locality.

Smeed added that, if no thought was to be given for Campbell ever becoming a permanent campus, then he favored all relocatable classrooms being placed on the Saratoga site and for the college to move there lock, stock and classrooms as soon as possible.

Smeed's argument was bolstered by Councilman Ed Rogers who added that without a declaration of intention from the college, the city was placed in an unenviable position. It was necessary to know what the college was going to do for the city to develop any planning for the downtown area, he explained.

In answer to whether there had been any exploration of other sites in Campbell suitable for a college, Gene Arnold of the college staff, reported that through the cooperation of the city's planning department, 10 parcels had been pinpointed but that none of them met the minimum size requirements. They were all being studied, however.

Trustee William J. Homan expressed the opinion that the college board should possibly consider Campbell as one of the sites for the future. He suggested that perhaps it could be developed into a vocational or extended day operation and thus less acreage would be needed.

Jack Healey, a newly-elected chairman of the city's Planning Commission, in attendance at the meeting, said that the college's position had been weakened because its own board had been divided in the last bond issue.

Healey also expressed concern over the parking problems created in the city by the college students who refused to use the parking lot on Rincon.

Both governing bodies agreed the meeting had been helpful in recognizing the problems that existed in both camps. They suggested that future joint meetings should be called.

It was apparent also that both groups had discovered that they had something in common--the lack of money to do everything that had to be done.

C. of C. seeks more 'replies'

Chamber of Commerce officials this week appealed to those who had received the questionnaires pertaining to Campbell's first "Congress for Community Progress" on Feb. 13, 1967, to mail them to the C. of C. office, (P.O. Box 85).

Jim Duffield, C. of C. manager, said that it was necessary to get them back by next week in order to tabulate them so that the subjects of greatest interest will be included in the panel discussions at the "Congress" which will be held at West Valley College.

In addition to letters that were sent out to residents, The Campbell Press cooperated last week by distributing the questionnaires with the newspaper.

Duffield said that approximately 200 had been returned to his office by this week but he hoped that more than twice that number would come in, in order to obtain a better expression of the feelings of the citizens as to the objectives of their community.

Two Local Nurses Complete 12-week Brush-up course

Culminating twelve weeks of brush-up training, 24 registered nurses received letters of completion at the Santa Clara Valley Medical Center Refresher Nurses' Graduation Tea recently.

The letters officially certifying readiness to reenter active nursing, were presented by Norman B. Nelson, M.D., director of medical institutions.

Two Campbell women, Mrs. Helen Rose, 80 Hamilton Ave., and Mrs. Marjorie Zets, 761 N. Central Ave., were among the 24 graduates.

The twelve week's course at Santa Clara County Hospital is designed to bring the retired nurses up to date on the latest medical developments. They have classes in the afternoons directed by various doctors and department heads, and in the mornings they assist in the wards in various capacities. The instruction classes are under the supervision of Katherine Schmorr, R.N. of the hospital's education department.

Mrs. Rose, wife of Campbell City Councilman Charles Rose, is a graduate of Highland Hospital School of Nursing in Oakland. She reported she found the classes and ward work very stimulating and hoped to return to active nursing at a later date.

Terry Churchill, Ernest Foutz are engaged

The engagement of Miss Terrille Sue Churchill to Ernest E. Foutz was announced at a recent family gathering in the home of Terry's aunt, Mrs. Edward Litynsky, 1169 Audrey Ave., Campbell.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Teril Miller, formerly of Campbell and now residing in Gasquet, Calif. She was graduated from Campbell High School, attended West Valley College, and is currently employed at El Camino Hospital.

Ernest is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Foutz of Sunnyvale. He was graduated from Buchser High School and served four years in the Air Police of the United States Air Force. He is now employed by the Ford Motor Company, Milpitas.

May 14, 1967, has been chosen by the young couple as the date of their wedding. The number "14" has a special significance for them since they met on the 14th of the month and became engaged on the 14th of the month, so only the choice of the particular month had to be made when Terry and Ernie selected their wedding date.

Campbell Crier

by DAVE TURNER

Friday, Dec. 16, was the last day of services for one of Campbell's popular teachers, Mr. Nicholas Bell. Formerly a Comparative Government instructor, Mr. Bell will be going to Sacramento to assume the duties of legislative assistant to Dr. Earl Crandall, California Assemblyman from the 25th district. Dr. Crandall's successful campaign in the last election was managed by the Campbell teacher.

Campbell seniors will always remember Mr. Bell for his quick, witty humor which always made a lecture seem like entertainment. They will also look upon ensuing classes with pity, knowing that those students will never know this delightful man. On behalf of Campbell High School, I would like to extend our congratulations and a very sincere "good luck, Mr. Nicholas Bell."

With the vacation coming on, school activities are nearly at a standstill. There are a few basketball games, mostly Soph-Frosh, but I have neither the dates nor the opponents of those encounters at my disposal.

Both Campbell basketball teams finally nailed down victories. The Soph-Frosh found the mark against Sunnyvale last Tuesday, Dec. 14, 41-40. The varsity came through at last against Hollister 62-30 to take seventh place in the Live Oak Christmas Tournament.

TREASURER--Margaret Kral, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kral of 1459 McBain Ave., Campbell, has been elected treasurer of Alpha Gamma Delta social sorority at Chico State College. Margaret, a 1963 graduate of Del Mar High School, is a senior art major at the college.

The athletes were treated to a swiss steak dinner, served by members of the Camden Debs.

Camden High has a new addition to its growing spirit organizations. Head cheerleader Tina Clementi is in charge of the newly formed Pep Club. The one factor involved in membership is to have a genuine interest in building up the school spirit, and wearing white to all of the games.

Practices for Pep Club will be held once a week for an hour. Here the members are taught new and old cheers.

CHARITY BASKET GIVEN:

Christmas will be livelier for orphans, thanks to this year's Girls Athletic Association's seniors. They contributed food and money for the yuletide season, in form of a charity basket.

Each class undertakes a specail holiday The sophomores donated at Thanksgiving and the juniors will contribute at Easter.

CHOIR SINGS:

Camden A Capella choir made their first performance of the year at the Kiwanis Club luncheon held Nov. 23. Since then the choir has been asked to perform several times. The choir sang for the Lions Club dinner and were highly received.

Christmas vacation is here at last, and Westmont students like everyone else, are ready for it. So, in keeping with the season's spirit, let me wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Since it is vacation, I'm going to cut this short, and leave you with a Christmas message from Westmont's principal, Mr. C. Warren Conrad.

"On these days before Christmas we think many thoughts that awaken our hearts to what Christmas can mean to mankind.

It is a time of peace, the gathering of friends and family, the Christmas decorations, the sound of Christmas carols, and the giving of the true Christmas spirit.

God bless you all and your families during this joyful season!"

Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace among men.

Luke 2:14

Again, Merry Christmas everyone, and see you next year.

SJSC Admissions Office has new phone service

To provide more rapid service for persons seeking information on admission to San Jose State College, the Admissions Office has installed an outside telephone line, announced Dr. Ralph R. Cummings, associate dean for admissions and records.

The new telephone number, 298-6500, will allow prospective students to bypass the college switchboard and call directly into the Admissions Office. Trained staff members will answer questions on admissions.

Calls to this special number may be placed between 9 a.m. and noon and 1 to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. The new service went into effect Dec. 15.

The new admission cycle for the Fall semester of 1967 opens Jan. 1, when SJSC begins accepting applications.

MORE ABOUT

Area schools

tumed in the traditional garb of all nations of the world stood in front of a backdrop of student-made greeting cards and decorations while they described holiday celebrations in other countries.

Murals, made by the students to illustrate stories of other Christmas beliefs, were displayedas Mrs. Marilyn Daniels conducted a student chorus.

During the week, fingers sticky with paste and paint, with bits of glitter clinging to small jackets and sweaters, gave evidence of the gifts which students were making to "surprise mother."

In addition to an evening program featuring chorus and orchestra, students at Campbell School were collecting canned goods and money for charity.

BUSY ELVES--Karen Sutherland, a second grade student at Castlemont School, puts finishing touches to a pink paper mache pin she's making for a Christmas gift, while classmate Laurie Marceau prepares to wrap her completed gift.

Math students put their knowledge of numbers to work and came up with attractive geometric designs simulating stained glass windows.

COVENTRY - CAPRI

Coventry and Capri schools both held traditional programs. At Coventry, Roger Merrill conducted the school orchestra while primary children sang.

Here, too, the children brought canned goods for the less fortunate, and on the lighter side, held classroom parties.

Earlene Ware conducted Capri's intermediate orchestra and Mrs. Lois Heron directed the school chorus.

Singing, gift-making, decorations, and programs all contributed to the mounting excitement in all schools.

Children from St. Lucy's School, in addition to their annual Christmas pageant held this week in the parish church, also paid visits to local rest homes to bring holiday greetings.

The schools are empty now. When the children return, they'll find the decorations gone from their classroom doors and windows. The papermache, the glitter and red and green paper will be gone.

But their Christmas hasn't been forgotten.

It can be found in the hand-made pin that mother wears; it can be seen in the form of a paperweight on dad's desk. And if you look in some scrapbooks, you'll see carefully preserved Santa faces, cards, poems, and decorations, all momentos of Christmas '66.

QUICKSAND

Quicksand has been found in the Far North in sandbars and at the mouths of glacial streams.

THAT'S MINE!--Second grader Reid Van Norman isn't shy about showing the paper mache pin he's going to give his motheron Christmas. Reid's teacher, Mrs. Gwen Wilcox, supervised her Casltemont School class while they made murals, trees, gifts, and even wrapping paper during the Christmas season.

For the second year in a row, Dennis Sebert of Campbell High, has been selected on the all-league B football team. His teammate, Tom Bigham was also named to the defensive team.

Rising costs and expanded services have forced the Campbell Water Co. to request the Public Utilities Commission to allow the company to raise its basic rate from $1.50 to $2.00 per month, Homer Hyde, manager of the water company, said this week.

10 YEARS AGO

Campbell Mayor John M. Chargin proclaimed this week as Red Cross Hungarian Relief week in Campbell. The city council passed a resolution which mentioned that President Eisenhower is asking the Americans to subscribe to a special five million dollar relief fund to aid the Hungarians.

Dr. J. Frederic Snyder, Campbell physician and surgeon, has been elected president-elect of the Santa Clara County Medical Society.

Air Force seeks U.S. Veterans

Persons with prior service in any branch of the United States Armed Forces are now being sought by the Air Force, according to SSgt. Ron Boone, local Air Force Recruiter.

Men or women with prior service can now enlist, if needed by the Air Force, at the same pay grade held at the time of discharge, provided they have been out of the service less than 24 months and have an honorable discharge. If discharged more than 24 months but not more than 30 months ago, persons may enter the Air Force with a loss of only one pay grade from discharge grade, Sgt. Boone said.

Interested persons may contact him in room 145 of the Post Office Bldg. on N. First St. and W. St. John in San Jose, or call 295-7349.

with "Charlie" Gubser

With the war in Vietnam expected to drain $2 billion per month from the Federal Treasury next year and with a new Congress reflecting the people's desire for economy, a battle over money between government departments will dominate next year's news.

President Johnson will probably continue his tendency to urge funds for new and dramatic programs which bear the Great Society label while starving existing and traditional government activities.

We saw a preview of this "money battle" in the closing days of the 89th Congress which sensed a coming taxpayers' revolt. Large sums were earmarked for established and well planned poverty programs like Head Start and the Neighborhood Youth Corps while untested and unplanned programs were severely curtailed. Congress grew wary of the National Teachers' Corps and appropriated only $17 million where $90 million had been authorized. Rent supplements would up with only $12 million for its first year of operation out of a planned $150 million. The Demonstration Cities program authorized at $2.3 billion for six years, received only a pittance for planning purposes.

There is a serious question that the large sums planned for the future will ever be voted.

If President Johnson follows past patterns, he will urge economies in older programs and fight to preserve the concepts of the Great Society. If, as it is rumored, he will ask for an increase of approximately $2 billion for Great Society programs, then the cutbacks he has been talking about must come out of federal programs already underway.

Medical Research and Education may be two areas to feel the Presidential economy axe. Even this year Mr. Johnson requested only one half the $140 million authorized for regional medical centers to fight heart disease, cancer, stroke, and related diseases and it is unlikely he will ever fully implement the law. Funds for medical research have not increased proportionately with the number of programs. As a result medical schools across the nation are actually absorbing cuts in long standing medical research programs.

Aid to elementary and secondary education is scheduled to go up by almost $1 billion this year and higher education is slated for a 50% increase. But the President has ordered a manpower freeze which will prevent the Office of Education from setting up the machinery to expand the program. Education could well be a loser in the battle for funds.

If money is to be limited (and it will be) priority should go to worthwhile programs already in existence. Wasteful new programs should be eliminated. It does not make sense to starve medical research, education, and other important activity to bail out questionable activities simply because they carry the brand of the Great Society.

Bank appoints Bettie Killgore to officer post

Promotion of Bettie E. Killgore to operations officer at Bank of America's Campbell Branch was announced today by D.R. Kennedy, manager. She succeeds Mrs. Mary Jane Van Gundy, who has resigned.

In 1959 she was promoted to assistant operations officer at the Susanville Branch, advancing in 1962 to bank officer status while serving at the Chester Branch.

For the past three months Mrs. Killgore served on the Area Administration Service Staff for the San Jose area.

Mrs. Killgore and her husband, Elmo, are parents of a daughter, Marlene, 13, and a son, Steven, 5. They reside at 2852 Sugar Pine Court, San Jose.

Dry Christmas tree may be fire hazard

We would like to resist throwing a note of caution into the merriest season of the year, but that lovely Christmas tree of yours may be dry. In fact, it may become so dry that it is a hazard, say authorities at the University of California Agricultural Extension Service.

Stand the tree in a container of water during its entire stay in your house. Watch the container and refill it as the tree absorbs the water.

Place your tree in the coolest part of the room ...away from fireplace or heating unit. Don't block an exit.

Keep your holidays merry!!

BRUCE ALLEN

Judge-elect Bruce Allen leaves W.V. College governing board

Superior Judge-elect Bruce F. Allen resigned from the Board of Trustees of West Valley College Thursday night, as a prelude to his taking his new office in January.

Allen dramatically tendered his resignation early in the meeting in a somewhat emotional moment, and Chairman Robert Brydon called a recess while other board members and friends shook Allen's hand and wished him well before his departure. The Board accepted his resignation "with deep regret."

Allen was a charter member of the Board, and its first chairman.

In his letter of resignation, Allen also expressed regret at leaving the board, and added:

"I have enjoyed working on this board and regret that I will not be able to continue to see the completion of our labors, but I suppose that is never done."

"After having served on this board for the past four years, I have acquired even greater respect for the labors of school board members who have an organizational problem of a new district."

"We have all accomplished much during the past three years, and I think we have a fine educational program going.

"Consequently, I plan to enroll next term as a student. I also expect to have some younger members of the Allen family as students in this institution shortly"

Allen was elected to the Superior Court bench in the Nov. 8 balloting. He served in the State Assembly and was a candidate for Attorney-General in the 1962 Republican primary.

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, district superintendent, informed the Board that it has 60 days to choose a successor to Allen. Failure to do so within the prescribed time would result in the appointment being turned over to the County Board of Education.

Obituaries

Edith Larkin dies suddenly

Private funeral services were held at 1 p.m. today for Mrs. Edith Larkin, former owner of Rachel's Dress Shop in Campbell. Mrs. Larkin died unexpectedly at her home at 250 N. Harrison Ave. She was 73.

A native of Ohio, Mrs. Larkin had lived in this area for 33 years. She had been co-owner with Mrs. Emily Fairchild of Rachel's Shop for 18 years. Mrs. Larkin operated the dress shop alone for six months prior to selling it to Jack Zimmerman of San Jose. She was a member of The Questors, an antique collector's organization.

Mrs. Larkin and her son, Paul S. Larkin of Oakland, enjoyed a trip to Europe together this summer. In addition to her son, she is also survived by a sister, Mrs. William Scofield of Ohio. Her husband, Paul G. Larkin, preceded her in death last year. Darling and Fischer Garden Chapel, 471 E. Santa Clara, San Jose, was in charge of funeral arrangements.

FESTIVE BOARD--Some 48 guests, including members of the West Valley College Board of Trustees, enjoyed a delicious meal of roast pig, baked striped bass, round of beef and baked ham, all prepared by students in the West Valley College Food Services and Restaurant Management Program under the direction of their instructor, Thomas A. Devins. Student cook, Donnell Cole, serves Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president, Hal Bohannon, San Jose restauranteur and co-chairman of the program's Advisory Committee, and Trustee Jack Armstrong.

Carolers tour El Solyo neighborhood

For the ninth consecutive year the children in the El Solyo Ave. neighborhood of Campbell caroled their families and friends in that area Tuesday night, Dec. 20.

Ranging in age from four to ten years, the group was under the direction of Mrs. Glenis Kirk. The carolers were originally directed by Mrs. Charles Cole. As they grew older and more proficient with instruments, these were added as accompanists. Particularly notable among these were Michael Hernandez, and Jeffrey and Steven Hodos.

With the passing of time, some of the singers have moved to other areas, but return for this annual event of music. Elberta Camin is leader of the singers. The members of the group are the following: Michael Hernandez, Judy Hernandez, John Shilling, Kenneth Shilling, Merry Weiland, Heidi Weiland, Paula Hurley, Jim Hurley, Dawne Marshall, Darlene Marshall, Jeffery and Steven Hodos, Shelly Davis, Sarah Cole, Michelle, Nessa, Colette, Michael and Mark Kirk, Carol Pratt, Laurie Avlon, Jeanne Wianco, Leslie, Glen and Danny Nakamura. The A. Hodos family entertained the singers after caroling.

NEW CHAIRMAN--John M. Chargin, (right) San Jose attorney and former Mayor of Campbell, has been elected chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Santa Clara County Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. Chargin succeeds William H. Lawrence, (left) San Jose Postmaster. The local MS chapter provides patient services for more than 200 MS victims in the County and supports research in the continuing effort to find the cause and cure of this great crippler of young adults. Persons interested in the program may phone Mrs. Eunice Engstrom, executive director, 286-4111.

Jr. Auxiliary helps Eastfield children celebrate Christmas

Eastfield Children's Center, at the corner of Llewellyn and Latimer in Campbell; is a home for emotionally handicapped children. The children there are aided in the ways of growing up into contented, responsible adults.

The Eastfield Junior Auxiliary is a group of young women who contribute financially towards this end. Gifts of time and effort are also made. One of the more popular services the Auxiliary gives to the Center is the monthly birthday parties. The women provide a party atmosphere, games, as well as presents for the children concerned.

Every year at Christmas, the Auxiliary donates their time to purchasing presents for the children. The ladies are busy pricing, searching for and wrapping gifts for the children. Each child has the privilege of making his or her own "wish list". This consists of items that the child would like to receive for Christmas. Then the staff picks one gift from each list and the Auxiliary buys them.

The list serves two purposes: it reveals what the child wants and it provides diagnostic information. Sometimes gifts are chosen from the lists that are important for a child's individual treatment. One year a boy asked for motorcycle boots. Auxiliary members hunted for days to find them. The important thing was, that at Christmas time, this child felt he was cared for and that someone was interested in him.

DECORATIONS TAKE THE PRIZE!

The homes of many of Campbell's children will be gaily decorated this year, in all manner of dress. Some homeowners have gone to the "trouble" of out-doing the "Joneses", while others have merely arranged to greet the "old boy" with a varicolored string of lights. However the homeowner has arranged this event, the majority of families will nonetheless have a "Very Merry Christmas." Yet, there are those who delight in making this a "special" time of year, and it is to those industrious persons that the Campbell Shopping Center's Merchants Association has directed its appreciation for making Campbell a "brighter place".

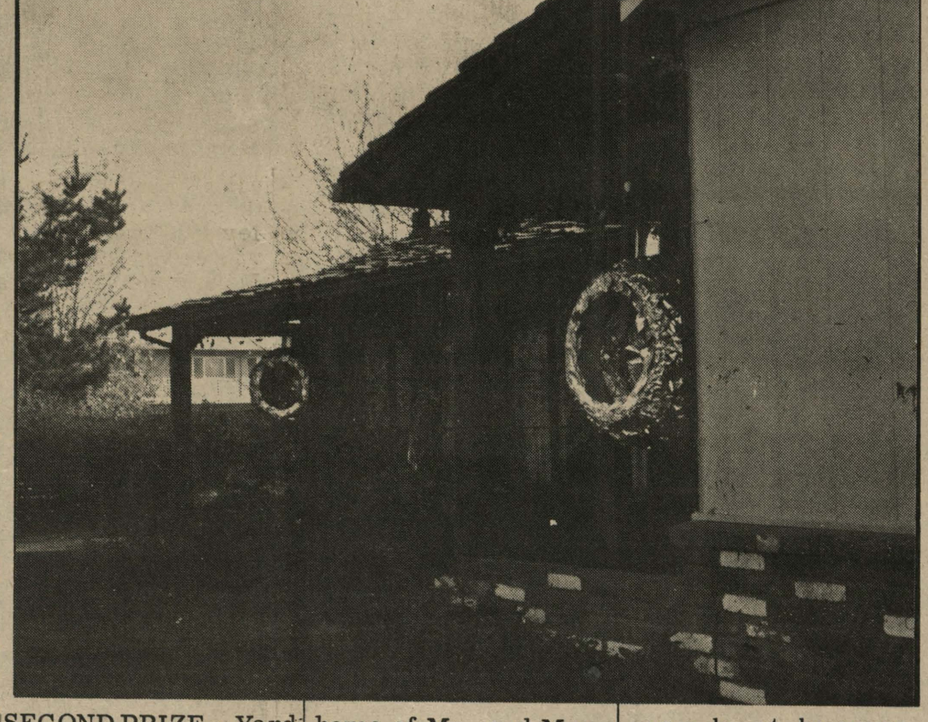
The popular Campbell Shopping Center, at Latimer and Winchester, in Campbell, has sponsored a home lighting and decoration contest, and The Campbell Press, carried publicity and appropriate blanks to inform the families in Campbell of the event. The results may be "seen" in the photos found here in this issue of The Campbell Press.

A "tour" of the area will not only reward the family with a "night-on-the-town", but may give some enterprising "pop", some "bright-ideas" for next year's contest!

FIRST PRIZE--Outdoor Home Decoration. Winner of the first prize for Outdoor Home Decoration in the Campbell Shopping Center sponsored lighting contest, went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Batis, 1629 Calado Court, Campbell. The photo, taken during the day, does not do full justice to the lighting effects that highlight the gay motif. An evening cruise would more than satisfy the beholder.

FIRST PRIZE--Yard Decoration. Winner of the first prize for Yard Decoration went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony G. Brunetti, 481 N. Carlyn (corner of Hamilton Ave.), for the entry in the Campbell Shopping Center's annual Christmas decoration contest, sponsored by the center's Merchant Association. This unique display may be seen in all of its animation and highlights on any evening during the festive season.

SECOND PRIZE--Outdoor Home Decoration. Winner of the second prize for Outdoor Home Decoration in the Campbell Shopping Center sponsored lighting contest, went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Warren, 216 Radford Dr., Campbell. Late afternoon shade fails to do justice to the colorful decorations. An evening drive will more than satisfy the eye of the "little-ones".



SECOND PRIZE--Yard Decoration. Winner of the second prize for Yard Decoration in the Campbell Shopping Center sponsored lighting contest, went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hal R. Gibson, 868 Sweetbriar Dr., Campbell. The over-size Christmas ornaments, and other decorations, may best be appreciated in an evenings excursion with the family to see the gaily lit homes of the various entrants in this year's contest.

CUB SCOUTS

CUB PACK 317

Cub Scout Pack 317, sponsored by Coventry Home and School Club, held their December Pack meeting recently at Coventry School. The colors were presented by Den 1.

Cubmaster Russell Hubbell announced that there would be a cake sale Dec. 23 at Speedee Mart on San Tomas and Campbell Ave. and at Laurel Variety at Latimer and Winchester Blvd.

Each Cub Scout brought canned goods to the meeting, to be donated to the Salvation Army for needy families.

The awards were presented by Frank Russell to the following boys: Larry Vaughn, John Wilcox, Robert and Rodney Dailey, Larry Stuck, and Eddie Mack, perfect attendance; Curt Russell and Larry Stuck, Denner and As'st. Denner bars; Steven Onishi, silver arrow-point; and Tom Smith, Wolf Badge and gold arrowpoint.

Mr. Russell also presented a new den mother, Mrs. Richard Jercha, with her pin and Ernie Reda with his Bobcat pin.

A skit, "The Operation," was presented by Den 10. The Cubs sang Christmas carols, accompanied by Mrs. George Jameson on the piano.

Highlight of the evening was a visit from Santa Claus who gave candy canes to all the children.

The attendance award was won by Den 1.

Cub Scouts who received awards in November were Frank Klein, David Wygal, Lee Puthoff, David Bruntz, David Stein, Kevin Klein, Steven Onishi, Jimmy Jacovides, Sherman Amsel, Paul Hoff, Rickie Hubbell, Joe Bruntz, Mark Whittiker, Gerald Holme, Larry Jameson, Eddie Mack, and David Burgess. New Bobcats were John Glissmeyer, Paul Jercha, and Steve Mark. A certificate of appreciation was presented to Ronald Holme, retiring den chief.

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD 15

Busy Scouts are happy Scouts and busy is definitely the word for the three Girl Scout troops at Capri School, Neighborhood 15. This Christmas season, troops 420, 483 and 1034, are combining their efforts on two major projects of community interest.

TROOP 420, JUNIOR SCOUTS, sponsored a project of collecting good used toys to repair and wrap for children at County Hospital. Both Brownie troops are aiding them. In return, the Juniors are helping the Brownies to collect canned goods for the needy. This project was sponsored by BROWNIE TROOP 483.

The two Brownie troops are working together on still another project for the community. They are making tray favors for Foothill Convelescent Hospital. This project was started by TROOP 1034.

Troop 483 is also planning to sing Christmas carols at Eldercare convalescent Hospital, Dec. 20 and have a cocoa party afterwards. All three troops have made gifts for their own families. The main idea behind scouting is to serve and these troops have certainly done their best to make this a happy Christmas for others.

HOLLY ROSE

The Christmas berry, also known as California holly or toyon, is a member of the rose family.

Carpet stolen from new home

A Santa Clara building contractor, Ben Krahne, discovered 20 yards of blue nylon carpeting was missing from the master bedroom of a home just completed in Hamilton Park tract on Latimer Ave.

Krahne discovered the carpet was stolen when he opened the house for workmen on Friday, Dec. 16. The carpet had been laid but had not been tacked down. Blue fuzz was noted on the floor of the garage. The carpet weighed approximately 100 lbs. and it would have been necessary to use a truck to haul it away.

Pacific Telephone pays first installment on big tax bill

Christmas came a little early to Santa Clara County when its biggest taxpayer, Pacific Telephone, presented a check for $3,684,561.13. Campbell's share of the check came to $6,182.75.

The payment, half of the annual company property tax bill, was presented last week to Assistant Tax Collector R.E. Armstrong by Division Manager Charles N. Munger, Jr.

Accompanying Munger and in keeping with the holiday season was festively attired Virginia Ryan, an attractive member of the San Jose business office staff.

A second check for an equal amount will be paid to the county next April.

The payment was $839,995.64 higher than a year ago, a 12.6 per cent increase.

Santa Clara County collected $3,208,484.25 for itself and for schools and special district levies.

In addition, it also accepted the city taxes for Alviso ($277.68), Campbell ($6,182.75), Cupertino ($1,519.30), Gilroy ($463.35), Los Altos ($6,682.91), Los Altos Hills ($338.32), Los Gatos ($921.05), Milpitas ($8,581.41), Morgan Hill ($1,073.43) Mountain View ($28, 801.15), San Jose ($321, 439.17), Santa Clara ($46,761.50), Saratoga ($397.34), and Sunnyvale ($52,690,62).

The city of Palo Alto collects its own taxes which this year amounted to $54,499.28 plus $12,634.77 for a Palo Alto University Ave. assessment district for the first installment.

Pacific Telephone's total property tax bill in California for fiscal 1966-67 will be about $126,755,000, up 5.5 per cent over last year.

GOODIES--Pretty Virginia Ryan, appropriately dressed for the occasion, reaches into her bag of goodies for a $3,684,561.13 check for Assistant County Tax Collector Richard E. Armstrong. Ensuring delivery of Pacific Telephone's property tax bill payment is Division Manager Charles N. Munger, Jr. The huge tax payment was the first installment and was paid last week. The second installment will be paid in April.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

Q. Recently, I cut down on the hours I work each week. I am almost 65 years of age and plan to continue working. I wondered if I could get any social security payments.
A. You should get in touch with your Social Security Office immediately. The law has been changed so that people can now earn up to $1500 annually and still be entitled to full benefits.
Q. Why did I receive a notice about enrolling for medical insurance? I get retirement checks now and thought I would get automatic protection at age 65.
A. The hospital insurance protection is automatic, since you are 65 and are receiving social security payments. However, the medical insurance is voluntary and you must enroll to receive its benefits.
Q. I receive reduced social security benefits; do I have to file a new application to qualify for Medicare protection when I reach 65?
A. Your hospital insurance protection starts automatically in the month you reach 65. But, you must sign up for medical insurance; you will be mailed a notification three months before you are 65.

City plans to improve zoning code enforcement

Campbell's zoning ordinances will be more strictly enforced in the future than they have in the past, if the recommendation of City Manager Bob Stephens to shift the enforcement authority from the building department to the planning department, is approved by the City Council.

The council next Tuesday night, Dec. 27, (Monday is a holiday) may act on the recommendation which is based in a comprehensive report on a "proposed zoning code enforcement program" prepared by Jeffrey Campen that was submitted last meeting.

Campen, son of Howard Campen, county administrative officer, is a San Jose State student majoring in city administration.

As part of his college training he served as an intern on the city staff for a semester and the report was part his assignment.

According to Stephens the change would involve the employment of a full time enforcement officer in the planning department who also would be assigned to annexation duties.

Stephens explained that enforcement of the city's zoning code sections has long been a weak link.

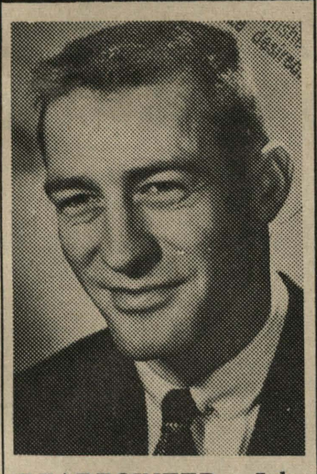
This weakness was highlighted in an appeal presented to the City Council by Bill Harrison relating to sign violation.

Harrison argued that it was discriminatory for the city to force him to comply with conditions for a new sign when the city was filled with hundreds of other sign violations of all descriptions. He maintained that he was willing to comply with the conditions, if the city would make an effort to enforce the other violations.

Stephens said that the new plan would be a step in getting teeth into the zoning code and also make for a more efficient enforcement program.

On the agenda for the final meeting of the year will also be a request for city approval for a limousine service to operate within the city limits. The council will have the advantage of the experience of Los Gatos which just recently acted on the same type of request.

On Monday the council is also expected to call for applicants to file for the vacancy on the Planning Commission created by the death of Jim Tomlinson who had served on the commission since its inception in 1952.



REAPPOINTED--John Billmeyer, of 151 Mariai Marianna Way, Campbell, employed by the San Jose Merchants Association, has been reappointed to a three-year term on the Parks and Recreation Commission.

Supervisors approve plan for development of creek park

County supervisors on Monday approved a $140,000 development plan for development of Los Gatos Creek Park in Campbell on a 10-acre parcel near Camden Ave. and Highway 17. Entry to the park is from Dell Ave.

James T. Pott, county public works director, presented the plan as the first stage of development of the park portion.

The basic development of the park will be assisted by a $30,500 grant from the federal Housing and Urban Development Agency, Pott reported.

The largest share of the park cost will be for roads and parking, $27,000.

Sanitary sewer facilities and a restroom facility will cost $14,000.

Water distribution system will cost $15,400.

Landscaping and picnic units will cost $13,000.

Other costs include storm drainage, $4000; docking facilities, $6000; water supply main, $5600; engineering, inspection and contingencies, $19,000.

Pott recommended a one-stage development of the 10.2 acre park, noting that a multi-stage development program would hike the cost.

It was recommended, however, that only 96-car parking be provided in the initual phase with the balance of the 136 to be provided after the picnic units are provided.

An area for unloading small boats will be provided with a 60-foot header dock planned. No permanent docking facilities are planned, Pott reported.

The picnic area will contain 36 picnic tables and barbecue stoves, which will accommodate an estimated 288 people.

CHAIRMAN--Jack B. Healey, of 1791 Grace St., San Jose, was elected 1967 chairman of the Campbell Planning Commission on Monday night. Healey, an insurance agent, is in his second term on the commission, and served as vice-chairman during the past year.

He succeeds Harry A. Lee in the chairman's chair. A vacancy exists on the commission now because of the death of Jim Tomlinson who served as a commissioner for 14 years.

LATE FALLS

A wish hearty, and most sincere, with greetings glad to you and yours, from all of us,
